Sugar Embargo On Cuba Helps Glades

CLEWISTON — Florida sugar producers are benefiting from the embargo on shipments from Cuba, according to President Harry Vaughn of the United States Sugar Corporation.

Domestic producers are now permitted to take as much of the quota formerly going to Cuba as they are able to handle.

Responsibility In Tax Equalization

The county commission's responsibility as a board of equalization was explained by Vice Chairman Lake Lytal Monday as the board met to receive the county's assessment roll.

Lytal said he was making the statement to "clear up some misunderstandings."

The vice chairman said the board of commissioners does not expect or reject the assessment roll—they receive the roll from the tax assessor.

The tax roll, Lytal said, is the sole responsibility of the tax assessor and no other public official has anything to do with it. The commissioners, he said, sit only as a board of equalization and the only adjustments possible is where evidence shows that two adjoining or like pieces of property show a variance in amount of Assessment.

CIRCLE MEETING

Ione Patterson Circle of the Canal Point Baptist Church will meet Monday, July 10 at 3:00 p. m., at the Church. Mrs. J. H. Bordeaux will have charge of the program.

Miss Julia Mathis of Pahokee has returned to her home after visiting relatives in Panama City for the past three weeks. She was accompanied home by her niece, Miss Vickie Mathis and Tommy Stubbs of Bradenton.

Cooperation of many folks and business concerns in Pahokee paid off on Tuesday and a dandy Fourth of July celebration was staged on the dike. The Pahokee and Canal Point Lions club, in a joint effort, prepared and sold chicken barbecue dinners and netted a tidy little sum of cash for their work.

At the snow ball stand where the ice and equipment had been furnished by City Products Corporation through their local manager, R. L. Hurt, $51.80 was realized and this amount went to help pay for the fireworks which were enjoyed by all.

The crowd, estimated at nearly a thousand, saw the fireworks and were given an opportunity to help pay for them. A free will offering was taken up and $199.56 was realized from the contributions and this will be banked and used as a starter for cash to pay for next year's fireworks.

It would be next to the impossible to thank each and every person who cooperated to make the day a grand success and Chamber of Commerce officials are anxious that the entire community be thanked for their splendid showing of cooperation.

New Sugar Mill Is Planned Clewiston

Clewiston will be the site of a new sugar mill in the near future, according to plans of the Florida Cane Products Corporation a Delaware corporation headed by Albert R. Mesa, now of Miami.

The mill will have a capacity of 700-750 tons per day, and will employ 100 to 120 persons during the grinding season, which will operate on a 24-hour day.

The corporation is moving a mill recently acquired in New Ibera, La., to property located outside the city limits of Clewiston. The primary objective is to produce raw sugar, although the mill will have the capability of also producing cane syrup or refined sugar.

Most of the cane will be obtained from private contractors although the Florida Cane Products will also produce a few hundred acres of cane.

Mrs. John Harrington, Sr., and son, Donald of Port Mayaca, had as their house guests Saturday through Tuesday, her son-in-law and daughter, Judge and Mrs. K. E. Cooksey and children, Ken, Jim and Catherine of Monticello. Also her son, Capt. John Harrington, Jr., of Dover, Del., his wife and their sons, were spending this week with her parents in Miami.

Here Is What Transpired At Monday's Meeting Of The Palm Beach County Commission

The County Commission this week is holding its annual board of equalization meetings leading up to setting its tax levy for the year on the assessment roll it received Monday from Tax Assessor Edward Maxwell.

The assessment roll, which Maxwell described as a fulfillment of an election pledge to cut assessments to a 60 percent level, dropped county valuations about $90,000,000 under the amount available for taxation last year.

Maxwells roll set the total amount of real property in the non exempt category at $732,709,420. This amount coupled with personal property and railroad and telegraph property brings the total non exempt value for the county to a new assessed total of $352,037,130.

The assessor set the value of homesteaded property at $213,469,050, a figure he said represented about 47,000 homes.

The new roll brought immediate protest from a Ft. Lauderdale resident who is developing a parcel of property in Palm Beach County, M. L. Marx said he believed the un-platted and undeveloped lands in his proposed subdivision should be assessed as acreage rather than on a basis of individual lots. Property adjoining his, Marx said, is assessed at $66 per acre while the figure on his land was set at $568.80 per acre. He was invited by the commission to furnish further evidence in his case for study by the equalization board.

Frank Hannon, representing the Palm Beach Civic Association, asked for time to check the new tax roll to determine if some 800 members of his group had received the publicized reductions.

The commissioners also took under advisement, several other assessments protests. The will continue equalization meetings each day until noon in the commission rooms at the courthouse. Equalization meetings usually last a week, after which time the commission sets the tax levy for the coming year.

The millage last year was slightly under 6 mills but it appeared imminent that the levy will have to be boosted this year to meet figures which the commission has placed in its tentative budget.

The county commission took a position this week that it would decline to give its approval to subdivision where right-of-way fee short of required standards.

The board, by declining to take action on a Pahokee subdivision known as Parkview Manor, showed itself to look with disfavor on plans where needed right-of-way is not made available without cost.

The Parkview Manor plat, which had been approved by the City of Pahokee, include a section of State Road 715 which is now in the planning stage for improvement. The State Road Department has served notice on the county board that it will be required to provide a 100 foot right of way. Developers of the plat, the commission said had refused to furnish the needed right of way—a move which would force the county to have to buy the land when the time came to improve the road.

The Parkview Manor plat had originally been approved by the City of Pahokee and presented to the commission. The county board returned the plat, asking the city to reconsider and call for the needed right of way. The plat was returned a second time, along with the advice that the city had not wish to reconsider the matter—leaving the county in a position of having to be a future purchaser of right of way to improve the road.

Five Scholarships Are Now Available

Five scholarships in optometric education are now available to qualified Florida students, according to word received today by Dr. Russell G. Young, Lake Worth, from Dr. Albert H. Rodriguez of Tampa Secretary of the Florida State Board of Optometry. Dr. Young is president of the Florida East Coast Optometric Association, serving St. Lucie, Martin, Palm Beach and Okeechobee Counties.

The scholarships, totaling $1,000 per year each for the entire course of study, were created by the 1961 Florida legislature to provide professional visual care in areas of Florida where a critical need exists. Twenty-one Florida counties are currently without the services of a qualified optometrist, twenty of which are without any form of professional visual care, and numerous locations require additional optometrists to meet the needs of Florida's ever growing population. Optometric officials state that one optometrist is required for each seven thousand (7,000) of total population to provide adequate visual care. Florida's current ratio is approximately one to twelve (1:12).

To be eligible for scholarships, Dr. Young said, applicants must be residents of Florida for at least five years and meet pre-optometric educational requirements, including two years' attendance at an accredited college of arts and sciences, or a junior college, with emphasis on mathematics and the biological sciences. Scholarship recipients must agree to attend an accredited college of optometry approved by the Florida State Board of Optometry and practice in an area designated by the Board upon completion of the prescribed course.

Eat More Beef Is Pushed By Mutual

KISSIMMEE — Florida Citrus Mutual seems to be one of the biggest boosters of the Florida Beef Council these days.

Florida citrus growers, at 14 area meetings and at the annual meeting in Winter Haven, have eaten almost 7,500 Florida fillet mignons. Some 1,500 pounds of Florida beef were served to the crowd of 3,000 persons that attended the 13th annual membership meeting of Florida Citrus Mutual in Winter Haven.

It seems Florida cattlemen feed their steers Florida citrus, so Citrus Mutual officials thought turnabout was fair play. It took an army of 15 cooks to sizzle all those fillet mignons at the Winter Haven meeting.

The Florida Beef Council is an arm of the Florida Cattlemen's Association and is charged with the responsibility of promoting Florida beef.

Allstate Opens New Office St. Pete

ST. PETERSBURG—A new office and research park, development of the Allstate Life Insurance Co., offering new facilities for attracting business to Florida, was dedicated in St. Petersburg recently.

In ceremonies which also marked the opening of Allstate's Florida regional office building, President Judson B. Branch announced that invitations are going to more than 200 other companies throughout the country inviting them to consider locating in the office and research development.

Branch predicted that ultimate development of the overall 130 acre tract will produce a minimum of 4,000 new job opportunities and an annual payroll in excess of $20 million.

"We are confident other companies will find, as we have, that the unique combination of excellent climate, large skilled labor supply and rapid growth of the area is the perfect answer to their problem of opening new offices or relocating present ones," Branch stated.

Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Parker of Canal Point were the guests of her mother, Mrs. J. A. Groover in West Palm Beach Sunday.

Miss Kay Elaine Friend Becomes Bride Richard Korbly In Church Ceremony

Miss Kay Elaine Friend of Pahokee, became the bride of Richard Palmer Korbly, Jr., in a candlelight ceremony at the Pahokee First Methodist Church, Saturday, July 1st at 7:00 p. m. Officiating at the double ring ceremony was the Rev. T. C. O'Steen, pastor of the church.

The bride, the former Kay Elaine Friend, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lewis W. Friend of Pahokee. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard P. Korbly, Sr., of 3306 Shamrock Road, Tampa.

The altar was effectively decorated with tall white standards of white gladioli and mums; cathedral candelabra with white tapers were used in graduate angles where stately palms formed the background with a lighted cross in front. Family pews were marked with arrangements of white mums showered with white satin. Preceding and during the ceremony, Miss Jill McIlwain, organist, presented a program of wedding music and accompanied Miss Anita Cowart, soloist, as she sang "Because," "Till" and "The Lord's Prayer."

Usher groomsmen were Johnny Smith, Canal Point; Tom Pfleger Ft. Lauderdale; Don Vining, Atlanta, Ga.; all fraternity brothers of the bridegroom, and John Cain, Orlando. R. P. Korbly, Sr., served as his son's best man.

Attendants were Cynoy Friend, sister of the bride, maid of honor. She wore a frock of beige silk organza with a softly draped bodice and brief sleeves. The sheath skirt was draped to one side. She wore a matching head piece and carried a deep red Dutchess Rose. Miss Betsy Fisher, of West Palm Beach, cousin of the bride, Miss Jeanine Mock of Gainesville and Pahokee, served as bridesmaids and Miss Merry Ann Friend, sister of the bride, was junior bridesmaid. All wore frocks identical to the maid of honor and also carried deep red Dutchess Roses.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, was beautiful in a period gown fashioned of candlelight Boquet taffeta, which featured a scoop neckline outlined with French pearl trim and bracelet length sleeves. The basque waistline, outlined with pearl fringe, was attended to a bell shaped skirt which draped to the back in a busle effect and fell into a chapel train. Her double bouffant veil of pure silk French illusion fell from a crown of lace and pearls and she carried a large Butterfly white Dutchess rose.

Mrs. Friend chose for her daughter's wedding a pink crepe dress with matching accessories and an orchid corsage.

Mrs. Korbly, Sr., wore a printed silk dress with matching accessories and a white orchid corsage.

Following the wedding, a reception was held at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Friend. Mrs. Sara Thomas and Mrs. Paul Rardin served punch and cake. The cake table was covered with an imported linen cutlery cloth and featured a handsome arrangement of white butterfly roses around the five tiered wedding cake topped by a miniature bride and groom. At one end, silver punch bowls rested in arrangements of white roses. On the bride's table, beside the book, was an arrangement of white fuggli mums. The Florida room was decorated as a rose garden with red happiness roses. A blooming Bird of Paradise peeped out of the rock garden.

Mrs. John Starling kept the bride's book.

After the reception, Mr. and Mrs. Korbly left on their wedding trip to Nassau, the bride traveling in a three piece beige silk matching accessories and a rose corsage.

Upon their return, they will reside at 2707 Cheryl Lane, Sarasota, Florida.

Suggestions For The Home Buyer

MIAMI—General Development Corporation, the nation's leading community building firm, came up today with a ten-point checklist to safeguard the purchaser buying a Florida home.

And General Development should know, for the corporation has eight cities under construction on both Florida coasts. Here's what corporation officials say you should look for before you leap into the purchase of a home in Florida.

First, your home should be located in a community fronting on a main Florida highway. Florida main highways are not too common, but they link the principal cities of the state. They make it easier for you to get from your home to major population areas.

Secondly, the community in which you buy your home should be near an established city. Many Florida communities are built from scratch, and the facilities of an older city come in handy while your community is growing.

Thirdly, make sure that your home community is on a body of water. Florida means recreation, and frontage on a lake, bay, river or ocean will help provide it for you.

In the fourth place, buy only from a long-established builder. The contractor who is new in the field often will put up a community of several hundred houses or less and will move away. The big, long-established companies have heavy financial interests in their communities, and their representatives are these should you have any complaints.

Check the water supply. Florida has unlimited, excellent water in some areas. In some other sections, however, the problem of water for home consumption may prove hard to solve at some future date.

Sixth, before you buy make sure that the community has a planned recreation program. General Development, in its communities such as Port Charlotte, Port St. Lucie and others offers more than the house it sells. The buyer gets golf courses, fishing piers, parks, community centers, schools in adult education, swimming pools and yacht clubs as part of the bargain.

Seventh, make sure the community has good drainage. If the land is high and dry, you'll find good stands of trees. Most trees die off in swampy or low-lying land.

Eight, check the builder's advertising. If he shows "architect's rendering" of a proposed community, be on your guard. Most established and reliable builders use only actual, untouched photographs in their advertisements.

Ninth, make sure that the community has a program for construction of schools, churches, libraries, shopping centers and other facilities. Not only are these a convenience, but they provide work opportunities should you get bored of loafing.

Finally, select only a community with a normal American population. Don't get into a community devoted exclusively to older people. Young blood is needed to maintain the equilibrium of any suitable place to live.

Florida offers homes in just about every price range, and under easy financing arrangements. The choice is up to you. But, says General Development, check these ten points if you want the most for your money.

Interstate Road To Be Opened Today

Governor Farris Bryant and Federal Highway Administrator Rex Whitton will officiate at a series of ceremonies in Orlando today (July 7) as the State Road Department opens the longest segment of Interstate highway in Florida.

Bryant and Whitton head an impressive list of government officials who will participate in dedication activities to officially open Interstate Route 4 from America Street in Orlando to U. S. 27 in Polk County—a distance of 31 miles.

The schedule of events begins with a dedication breakfast, follows with a ribbon-cutting ceremony on the Orlando Expressway, a motorcade to U. S. 27, a dedication ceremony in Polk County and closes with a barbecue in Haines City.

Road Board Chairman John R. Phillips said the opening of the 31-mile portion of limited-access facility is a landmark in the Department's multi-million dollar Interstate program.

"The completion of this portion of Route 4 is a major step in linking the Tampa-St. Petersburg area on the west coast with Daytona Beach on the east coast. Every community along this 154-mile route will benefit from the safety and economic advantages offered by this multilaned superhighway," he said.

Phillips pointed out the only portion of Route 4 not yet completed between Tampa and Orlando is a 23-mile segment from Lakeland east to U. S. 27. This link will be completed in September, allowing Central Florida motorists to drive from Orlando to Tampa without encountering a single red light, intersection or railroad crossing.

Route 4 is the most developed of the four Interstate superhighways being built in Florida.

Including the 31-mile segment to be opened July 7, approximately 80 miles of this route have been completed.

Other completed segments of Route 4 include a nine-mile link between St. Petersburg and Tampa (including the seven-million dollar Howard Frankland Bridge), a 25-mile portion from Tampa east to Lakeland, a six-mile link in Polk County, the Lake Monroe Bridge in Seminole County and a 10-mile segment in Volusia County.

An additional 40 miles is currently under construction. Major construction projects include two links on the Tampa Expressway, the nearly-completed segment between Lakeland and U. S. 27, a link south of the Lake Monroe Bridge in Seminole County and a 15-mile stretch in Volusia County.

ANOTHER BIG REASON BEHIND THE BIG BOOM IN FORD SALES:

No other wagon can match
Ford's features (or popularity!)

Ford wagons have features that only America's station wagon specialists can bring you.

There's more room. Ford's extended load deck is the longest and widest in its field.

There's more convenience. You can have a power-operated roll-down rear window in any Ford wagon.

There's more distinction. The Country Squire (above) is the only wagon in its field with body panels that look like mahogany, wear like steel.

There are more savings. Ford's Ranch Wagon is America's lowest-priced,* full-size wagon. And like all Fords, every Ford wagon is built to be more service-free: goes 30,000 miles between chassis lubrications, 4,000 miles between oil changes.

Stop waiting for that wagon you've always wanted. Swap for a '61 Ford wagon now! Save for a '61 Ford, the wagon America loves most!

Christian Science Group Of Canal Point

Genuine appreciation of the sacrifice and triumph of Christ Jesus must be expressed in daily living. This is a theme of the Lesson-Sermon on "Sacrament" to be presented at the semi-annual communion service in Christian Science churches Sunday.

Paul's charge to Timothy, "Watch thou in all things, endure afflictions, do the work of an evangelist, make full proof of thy ministry" (II Tim. 4), will be included in the Bible readings.

A correlative citation from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy states: "To keep the commandments of our Master and follow his example, is our proper debt to him and the only worthy evidence of our gratitude for all that he has done" (p. 4).

Luncheon Honors Miss Cunningham

Mrs. W. M. Dubose and Mrs. Marshall Lair of Pahokee were hostesses at a delightful luncheon, Saturday, July 1st, honoring Miss Judith Ann Cunningham and her bridesmaids.

The DuBose home was beautifully decorated for the occasion. A yellow and white mum arrangement was used on the table. Place-cards were of miniature brides-maid dolls in pastel net skirts to match those of the guests and were later used as corsages. An all white bridal doll placecard marked the place of the bride-elect. The color theme was carried out in the lighted tapers and individual cakes were decorated in pastel tints.

Guests included Miss Cunningham; her mother, Mrs. D. W. Cunningham; her maternal grandmother, Mrs. W. R. Enecks, Miss Susan Johnson, Miss Pam Boe and Suzanne Young; Miss Jill McIlwain, Miss Shirley Kincaid, Miss Paula Parsons of Belle Glade, Mrs. Wallace Pope, house guest and Miss Barbara Myatt of Delray Beach.

Tourism Drops During Year 1960

TALLAHASSEE—Florida tourism suffered a drop of half a million tourists during 1960, but early 1961 statistics indicate that this year's volume will more than make up for the drop reflected last year.

Wendell Jarward, chairman-director of the Florida Development Commission, has predicted that 1961 will be a "record year."

A recent survey prepared by the commission included destinations of nearly 20,000 tourists who answered questions prepared by the state. On area destinations, the lower east coast showed an increase and maintained a significant lead over the remainder of the state as the spot where most of the tourists went last year.

The only area close to the lower east coast in percentage of tourists was the west coast region. Nearly a quarter of the tourists had no particular destination, but merely toured the state, the survey showed.

Miss Cunningham Weds W. A. Fowler

The Pahokee First Methodist Church was the scene of a Sunday afternoon wedding ceremony, July 2nd at 5:00 o'clock, when Miss Judith Ann Cunningham, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. David W. Cunningham, Sr., of Pahokee, became the bride of William Allan Fowler, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Harrison Fowler of Plentywood, Montana.

The Rev. Thomas C. O'Steen, pastor of the church, performed the double ring candlelight ceremony before a large assembly of relatives and friends. The church was decorated with baskets of white gladioli and mums, flanked by lighted tapers in branched candelabrum and palms. The pews were marked with white satin ribbon and nosegays.

A prelude of wedding music was played by Miss Jill McIlwain, organist, before the ceremony. Miss Shirley Kincaid sang solo selections during the services. Traditional wedding marches were played before and after the ceremony.

Miss Susan Johnson of Pahokee was maid of honor, wearing a light pink silk organza, ballerina length dress with a full skirt, a melon-colored medallion hat with circular veil and carried a crescent spray of melon carnations and green leaves.

Bridesmaids were Misses Suzanne Young and Pam Boe. They wore dresses identical to the maid of honor, with light pink hats and flowers.

John Jirovec, Frostproof, served as Mr. Fowler's best man. Ushers were David Cunningham, Jr., brother of the bride, Francis "Skeets" Boe and Harry Cunningham, younger brother of the bride.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a floor length gown of candlelight peau de soie, featuring a portrait neckline and decorated with heirloom lace, iridescent sequins and seed pearls. The long sleeves came to a bridal point at the wrist. The skirt was fashioned of two tiers of accordion pleats, with an apron front caught at the sides with lace and flowing into a chapel train in back. Her shoulder length veil of French illusion fill from a crown of candlelight roses. For her "something old," she carried a handkerchief from her paternal grandmother's trousseau. She also wore a necklace, a gift from the bridegroom and carried a white prayer book centered with a white orchid, sprayed with polycyps orchids and sweetheart roses.

Mrs. Cunningham chose for her daughter's wedding a dusty rose silk linen sheath dress, featuring an apron effect overskirt, matching pillow hat and shoes and a cymbidium orchid corsage.

Mrs. W. R. Enicks, bride's maternal grandmother, wore a cotton lace street length dress with white accessories and a pink Nellie Morlee orchid corsage.

Following the wedding Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Cunningham, Sr., entertained with a reception at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Olaf Boe, 2016 East Main Street in Pahokee. Beautiful floral arrangements of sweetheart roses, pink and white carnations, yellow and white glads and white mums were used at vantage points throughout the spacious house.

The bride's table was covered with a lace cloth, silver candelabra holding white tapers, and the center arrangement of pink carnations in silver bowl added beauty to the effect. A crystal bowl of punch cooled by a heart shaped block of ice filled with sweetheart roses rested on one end of the table and on the other was a three tiered wedding cake topped by a miniature bride and groom. Miss Paula Parson and Miss Judith Platt served cake to the guests, while Miss Roberta Frank and Miss Dottie Lair assisted Mrs. J. R. York and Mrs. L. L. Shirley serve punch. Miss Pat Bain and Miss Rosa Waring kept the bride's book. Others assisting were Mrs. Robert Simonson, Mrs. W. M. Dubose, Mrs. I. M. Lair, Mrs. Lee Shirley, Mrs. David Unwin and Mrs. Olaf Boe.

Before Mr. and Mrs. Fowler left on their wedding trip to Plentywood, Montana she changed into a navy silk linen suit with white accessories and a white orchid corsage. On their return from Montana they will make their home in Lake Worth.

Schools attended by the bride—Pahokee High School; Mather School of Nursing, New Orleans; and Palm Beach Junior College.

Schools attended by the groom—Plentywood High School; Plentywood, Montana, three years in U. S. Army; Palm Beach Vocational School. Profession, Auto mechanic.

Calling Shower For Mrs. Padgett

Mrs. Lester Hand's home in Pahokee was the lovely scene of a bridal calling shower in honor of Mrs. Dennis Padgett, held Thursday, June 29, 7:30 to 9:30.

Assisting Mrs. Hand were Mrs. Franklin Gillis, Mrs. F. E. Gillis, Mrs. Ernest Maxwell and Mrs. Joe Thompson. The hostesses presented an orchid corsage to the honoree and corsages of yellow hibiscus were presented to the mothers.

The refreshment table was overlaid with a lace cloth, centered with an attractive arrangement of hibiscus flowers and ivy around the crystal punch bowl flanked by small bouquets of sweetheart roses. Little square iced cakes, nuts and mints were placed on the table. Misses Martha Sellers and Yvonne Thompson assisted the hostesses in serving refreshments. Miss Gail Sears presided over the bride's book. Fifty guests called during the evening.

Guests were met at the door by Mrs. Hand and introduced to the receiving line, which included Mrs. Dennis Padgett; her mother, Mrs. Pope Sears and Mrs. Claude Padgett. New $3\frac{3}{4}\%$ interest on U.S. Savings Bonds

The Treasury explains why the new ones you buy and the ones you own now are better than ever

Q: How does the new $3\frac{3}{4}\%$ interest rate benefit me?

A: With Series E Bonds, the rate turns $18.75 into $25.00 fourteen months faster than the old rate. Your savings increase faster, because your Bonds mature in just 7 years, 9 months.

With Series H Bonds, the 10-year maturity period stays the same but more interest is paid you each six months. With both E and H Bonds the new rate works out to $2\frac{1}{2}\%$ for the first year and a half; then a guaranteed 4% each year to maturity.

Q: When did the new rate become effective?

A: June 1, 1959.

Q: Does the new rate change the Bonds I bought before June 1, 1959?

A: All older E and H Bonds pay more now—an extra $\frac{1}{4}\%$ from now on, when held to maturity. The increase takes effect in the first full interest period after June 1.

Q: Will the Bonds I own automatically earn their new rate?

A: Yes. You don't need to do a thing—just hold on to your Bonds.

Q: When my E Bonds mature, will they keep on earning interest?

A: Yes. An automatic 10-year extension privilege went into effect along with the new interest rate. This means your E Bonds will automatically keep earning interest after maturity.

Q: With the new interest rate, should I cash in my old Bonds and buy new ones?

A: No. The automatic $\frac{1}{4}\%$ increase makes it unnecessary—and in almost every case it is to your advantage to retain your present Bonds.

Q: How are series H Bonds different from series E Bonds?

A: The chief difference is this: You buy H Bonds at full face value and the interest is paid by Treasury check every six months for the life of the Bond. You buy E Bonds at 75% of face value and the interest accumulates to maturity. H Bonds provide income for living expenses, while E Bonds build a nest egg for the future. That's why many retired people hold H Bonds and families saving for, say, a child's education, buy E Bonds.

Q: In what denominations can I buy series E and series H Bonds?

A: E Bonds: $25 (cost $18.75), $50 (cost $37.50), $100 (cost $75.00), $200 (cost $150.00), $500 (cost $375.00), $1,000 (cost $750.00), $10,000 (cost $7,500.00).

H Bonds: $500, $1,000, $5,000 and $10,000. They are priced at face value.

Q: How safe are U.S. Savings Bonds?

A: Savings Bonds are an absolutely riskless way to save. The United States Government guarantees the cash value of your Bonds will not drop, that it can only grow.

Q: What if my Bonds should be lost, stolen or destroyed?

A: You can't lose. Every Bond purchased is recorded by the Treasury. If anything happens to your Bonds they are replaced—free.

Q: Where can I buy Bonds?

A: Buy E Bonds at any bank—it takes only a few minutes. Buy them automatically through the Payroll Savings Plan where you work. This Plan means you can have any amount you name automatically deducted every payday. The Bonds you buy by installments are delivered to you automatically, too. Your bank will take your order for H Bonds.

Q: How do I help strengthen America's peace power when I buy U.S. Savings Bonds?

A: Peace costs money—money for military strength and for science. And money saved by individuals helps keep our economy sound.

YOU SAVE MORE THAN MONEY WITH U. S. SAVINGS BONDS
